Treatment of personal data

This page describes how the site is managed with reference to the processing of personal data of users who interact with the web services on this Venice Gardens Foundation site. The information is provided only for this site and not for other websites that may be consulted by the user through links. Pursuant to art. 13 of EU Reg. 2016/679 (GDPR), the writer, as Data Controller, informs you that the personal data acquired will be processed in compliance with the rights of fundamental freedoms, as well as the dignity of the interested party, with particular reference to confidentiality and personal identity and the right to protection of personal data.

Pursuant to art. 13 of the aforementioned Regulation, therefore, we provide you with the following information:

Navigation data

During their normal operation, the IT systems and software procedures used to operate this website acquire some personal data whose transmission is implicit in the use of Internet communication protocols. This is information that is not collected to be associated with identified interested parties, but which by its very nature could, through processing and association with data held by third parties, allow users to be identified.

This category of data includes the IP addresses or domain names of the computers used by users who connect to the site, the addresses in URI (Uniform Resource Identifier) notation of the requested resources, the time of the request, the method used in submitting the request to the server, the size of the file obtained in response, the numerical code indicating the status of the response given by the server (successful, error, etc.) and other parameters relating to the operating system and the user's computer environment. These data are used for the sole purpose of obtaining anonymous statistical information on the use of the site and to check its correct functioning and are deleted immediately after processing. The data could be used to ascertain responsibility in case of hypothetical computer crimes against the site.

Data provided voluntarily by the user

The optional, explicit and voluntary sending of e-mails to the addresses indicated on this site entails the subsequent acquisition of the sender's address, necessary to respond to requests, as well as any other personal data included in the message.

Specific summary information will be progressively reported or displayed on the pages of the site prepared for particular services on request.

Personal data will be processed exclusively for purposes connected and / or instrumental to the consultation of the site, therefore excluding any different and / or conflicting use with that of the "interested party".

The processing of information concerning you will be based on the principles of correctness, lawfulness, transparency and protection of confidentiality and will be processed and stored with IT tools and in paper form for the time strictly necessary to achieve the purposes for which they were collected.

Specific security measures are observed to prevent data loss, illicit or incorrect use and unauthorized access.

The possible provision of data is optional, however, the refusal to provide the personal data relevant for the purpose of the collection will not make it possible to obtain what is requested.

The treatments connected to the web services of this site take place at the headquarters of the Venice Gardens Foundation and are handled by our data processors and hosting providers.

In any case, your personal data will not be subject to disclosure except with specific consent.

Use of cookies

On the Venice Gardens Foundation website, cookies are not used to transmit personal information, nor are so-called c.d. persistent cookies of any kind, or systems for tracking users. The use of so-called session cookies (which are not stored permanently on the user's computer and disappear when the browser is closed) is strictly limited to the transmission of session identifiers necessary to allow safe and efficient exploration of the site. I c.d. session cookies used on this site avoid the use of other IT techniques that are potentially detrimental to the confidentiality of user navigation and do not allow the acquisition of the user's personal identification data.

The links that may be contained in some of our pages lead to third party sites that may use various types of cookies; We therefore invite you to read the relevant information on these sites and to express the requested consents.

The management of each individual cookie is entrusted to the user who, manually or through the automatic settings of his browser, can decide which cookies to accept, with the possibility of eliminating at any time some or all of the cookies present on his browsing.

To facilitate the setting and management of the settings relating to cookies, the main browsers and the link to the cookie settings instructions are shown below (the link takes you to pages external to our site, maintained and updated directly by the relevant manufacturers of the navigation software).
